

This slide from a BDCP 2010 meeting is a summary of the Delta water outflow for March through May over the time period noted. Basically, more water must flow out of the Delta during March through May for the benefit of migrating fish. That means LESS water should be exported elsewhere or stored above, in or around the Delta. Yet the Interim Delta Plan elements will allow for MORE Delta water to be taken...as much as 20% more according to other slides.
