

SOURCE: Mount and Twiss (2005). Reproduced under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution License.

NOTE: The regional designations shown here were used to calculate pressures on the levees, as depicted in Figure 3.2. They often differ from areas of the Delta discussed elsewhere in this report. For instance, the “western” region shown here extends farther to the north and east than the area considered for fluctuating Delta salinity in subsequent chapters.

Figure 3.3—Delta Regions Subject to Different Long-Term Pressures on Levees